TWO YOUNG BOYS DOWN IN IN OLD KENTUCKY TODAY

WHILE MOB IN MONTANA STRUNG JIM BRADY UP

WITH NEATNESS AND DISPATCH.

Boys Arrested for Murdering Printer Hart Last Month—Brady Had Assaulted a Little Girl—Identity of the Men in the Two Mobs is Not Disclosed.

Shelbyville, Ky., Oct. 2.—Jumbo
Fields, aged 16, and Clarence Garnett, aged 18, both colored were taken from the jail here by a mob this morning and hanged from the Chesapeake & Ohio trestle just beyond the depot, within 100 yards of the jail. They were charged with the murder of Will C. Hart, a printer, who was stoned to death on September 21. The mob's work was done so quietly that only the jailer and two or three others knew what had occurred.

Hart came to Shelbyville from Lebanon, Ohio, and at the time of his death was employed as a printer in the office of the Shelby Sentinel. Details of his death are not accurately known. Hart's body was found at 1 o'clock Saturday night, September 21, in a path leading from the house of Annie Fields, the mother of Fields, in a negro settlement, called Ducktown.
At the coroner's inquest it developed that Hart had gone to the house of the woman for some purpose not positively explained. Fields afterwards entered and had some trouble with Hart. Fields went to the neighboring house of Clarence Garnett, a boy friend, and got him to go back and help settle matters. There was some evidence indicating that Hart was first struck by the women.

Early this morning a mob of unknown numbers assembled. The jailer refused a demand for the keys and thereupon the doors were battered down. The prisoners were removed almost before they had time to realize what was happening. They were prevented from making any outcry and were strung up. The mob quickly dispersed.

Was Hanged This Morning by a Mob Out in Montana.

Helena, Mont. Oct. 2.—James Edward Brady, who committed an unusually brutal assault upon five-year-old Ida Pugsley in Helena, yesterday, was taken from jail this morning by a mob and hanged to a telegraph pole in Haymarket street about three blocks from the jail. The crowd was orderly and quietly dispersed after the hanging. About two hundred men engaged in the affair and all were masked. They attacked the jail door with a battering ram. On gaining admittance they demanded the keys of the jailer at the point of a gun. The jailer then got the man out of his cell and he was given to the mob. When they first took him Brady asked,
"What is it gentlemen?"

Brady declared they had the wrong man, although he had been positively identified by his victim and a score of other people who had seen him with the child. He also asked that some money due him from the Montana
Central railroad be sent to his niece.
He was taken to Haymarket street and hanged. Later Sheriff McConnel cut the body down.

BODIES

Of the Seventeen Unfortunates Will Not be Recovered for Months— Stoppings Blown Out.

Nannimo, B. C., Oct. 2.—The situation in Extension No. 2 mine is practically unchanged. The bodies of the seventeen unfortunates will not be recovered for months. The sealing of the mine in an effort to smother the flames has so far failed to prevent air from leaking in, causing explosions which blew out the stoppings.

All Edstrom Had Left Out of $6,000— Pretty Faces and Oceans of Wine Responsible.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—With only 25 cents left out of $6,000 entrusted to him
three weeks ago, Hays Edstrom, one time a Harvard student, later a soldier, and recently paymaster of the Petroleum Iron works, at Corsicana, Texas is under arrest here. The home offices of the iron works are at Washington, Pa., and Edstrom says he left there recently with the pay envelope for the employees at Corsicana. According to his confession he let a trail of money behind him. In two days he claims to have spent $4,000 in St.
Louis and to have disposed of $1,000 in one day in Chicago. He has a hazy recollection of "pretty faces and oceans of wine," and then all is a blank. The only trace of the $6,000 was a few empty pay envelopes and a silver quarter.

chosen words and appropriate prayer
made the young couple man and wife.

After the customary congratulations
the guests were invited to the dining

Body Chancellor Huntington Would Bury at Sea With a Millstone About His Neck.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 2.—Five hundred students of Nebraska Wesleyan university, in mass meeting yesterday passed resolutions condemning the assassination of the president. Chancellor Huntington, in addressing the students said: "I crave for the assassin one mark of distinction. He has earned it, and I would it be awarded him.
His bones should never be allowed to mingle with American soil. When the death sentence shall be pronounced and executed, as it should be with a swift justice becoming such an unspeakable tragedy, I wish the United States government would take the remains of the atrocious murderer a hundred miles to sea, and then, pinioned and manacled, with his revolver in his belt and a millstone around his neck, sling the corpse a thousand fathoms to the bottom of the ocean,
that thus the anarchist might be warned that he shall not have so much as a grave in a civilized land."

The students cheered wildly and incorporated the chancellor's remarks in their resolution, a copy of which was forwarded to Governor Odell, of New York.

STUDENT HAZED.

Columbia, Mo., Oct. 2.—The first case of hazing that has occurred at Missouri university in many years has just been reported to the discipline committee. S. A. Thompson was the victim. Under the pretense that he was to be initiated into a secret fraternity, he was enticed into the woods,
stripped of his clothing, tied to a tree and lashed with switches. His hair was clipped close, and after hiding his eyes his tormentors deserted him.
It was very dark and cold and he suffered severely. He is unable to identify any of the implicated students.

EVANS

AGAIN PUT ON THE STAND TODAY.

WANTED TO DENY PUBLISHED STATEMENT.

COMMANDER SHARP OF VIXEN

Said He Could Have Coaled on May 26
if Necessary—If Vessel Had Displayed No Lights and Made no Noise
She Could Have Escaped Says Sharp
on Stand Today.

Washington, Oct. 2.—The Schley court of inquiry resumed its sessions at 11 o'clock this morning. Rear Admiral Evans took the stand to correct
the printed report of his testimony.

He said he wished to deny again the statement published in the Washington Post to the effect that he had destroyed the whole Spanish fleet. Evans said Captain Cook was present during the alleged talk with Schley when it was charged that Evans boasted of blowing the bow off one of the Spanish ships and the stern off another. Ray-nor tried to keep Cook's letter denying Evans' remarks from being presented at this time but was overruled
by the court.

Commander Sharp, who had charge of the Vixen during the Spanish war, said he did not need coal but could have coaled at sea on May 26 if necessary. During the Cuban blockade, the Vixen was on picket duty and kept from 2 1/2 to 3 miles from shore.
"If a vessel had displayed no lights and made no noise she could have escaped without our seeing it," said Sharp.

FURTHER DETAILS OF YESTERDAY'S TESTIMONY.

Washington, Oct. 2.—Three new witnesses offered testimony in the Schley court of inquiry and Admiral Evans concluded. The new men were Captain Sigbee, who commanded the scout ship St. Paul during the Santiago campaign; Mr. Thomas M. Die-naide, a newspaper correspondent
who was on the Texas during the battle of July 3, and Chief Yeoman Gustave E. Becker, who was a clerk to Admiral Sampson during the war.

Becker testified as to dispatches sent to Commodore Schley by Admiral Sampson.

Mr. Dienaide, a newspaper correspondent, testified that he was on board the battleship Texas during the battle. He saw the Brooklyn soon after the battle began. She was going seaward at right angles to the Texas.
At 9:50, he said, the order by Captain Philip was given to "stop both engines, helm hard starboard." Saw the Brooklyn in front of the Texas.
Made a note of it at the time; thought it was a close shave. Saw Captain Philip wave his hand toward the Brooklyn and heard him say, "Look at that fellow going out to sea." Did not hear Captain Philip give order to back the engines; might and might not have heard it if he did. Admiral Dewey: "You seem to have heard everything else."

Captain Charles D. Sigbee, who commanded the scout ship St. Paul during the Spanish war, was next called. He fell in with the flying squadron on the evening of May 26,
the squadron then being 20 or 25 miles south of Santiago. He had reported to Commodore Schley that he "knew nothing positively" about the Spanish fleet. He had first seen the Spanish vessels in the harbor at Santiago, but when he reported the fact he found the squadron had already made the discovery. Witness said the sea was heavy on the afternoon and evening of May 26, and would say it would have been a very difficult job to have coaled from ships alongside that night. Could not remember of having received a dispatch from the navy department on May 20, 1898, relative to the sighting of the Spanish fleet at Santiago.

Interrogated by Mr. Raynor, Admiral Evans said that when Captain Chadwick communicated the signal code to him he did not instruct him to give the information to Commodore Schley. The admiral denied saying to Commodore Schley on July 4, 1898, that "Captain Philip of the Texas started to run away at the beginning of the battle," but admitted discussing the position of the Texas with Commodore Schley on the same day. Witness also denied using the following language on the same day: "I shot
the bow off the Pluton, the stern off
the Furor, put my beam to starboard and raked the Teresa and knocked out the Viscaya." Witness also denied that no plan of battle had been arranged by Commodore Schley.

New York, Oct. 2.—Harr Most was discharged by Magistrate Healy in Flushing today when arraigned on the charge of inciting a riot. He has been in jail since his arrest, September 22.

LIPTON

FEELS VERY HOPEFUL FOR THE SHAMROCK.]

YACHTS ARE TO RACE AGAIN TOMORROW.

LEARNED ON GOOD AUTHORITY

That the Remainder of the Cup Races
Are Likely to be Sailed on Consecutive Days Instead of Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays as the Present Schedule is.

Highlands, N. J., Oct. 2.—Sir Thomas Lipton sat aft on the deck of the steam yacht Erin this morning reading the many cablegrams he received from England about the contest yesterday in which the Shamrock showed to such good advantage. "I presume Columbia's people feel today," said Sir Thomas, "the same as we did the day of the first race when Columbia finished so far ahead of our boat. I was pleased with the way Shamrock behaved yesterday and only regret that there was not enough wind to finish."

Sir Thomas again reiterated his desire to race every day if the fluky wind continued.

It was learned on good authority
this morning that the remainder of the America's cup races are likely to be sailed on consecutive days instead of on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, as the present schedule is.

A meeting of the representatives of the Royal Ulster Yacht Club and the New York Yacht Club challenge committee has been called and the question will be decided at once.

Two years ago this was done after a number of postponements because of lack of wind similar to the conditions which prevailed yesterday. Two flukes and one race for Columbia is the record of the America's cup series up to date. The yachts are to race tomorrow.

YACHT RACE TOMORROW.

plant will give employment to four or five thousand men.

"MR." HALL MET GIRL AND CALLED HER WIFE.

SHE WAS AN ADMIRER OF ROSA BONHEUR,

AND SHE WORE MEN'S CLOTHING.

Skirts Limited Freedom as Miss Hall
Wanted to See Something of the World—Lived for Years in Italy as a Painter—She Met Woman Who Posed as "His" Wife.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 2.—J. R. Hall, father of Caroline Hall, the artist,
whose death occurred on an ocean liner
Monday and whose masquerading in men's costume was revealed thereby, lives in a pretty home at 56 Linwood street, this city.

Mr. Hall says that he had received a telegram yesterday from his nephew, who went to New York on receipt of the telegram announcing the death of Miss Hall.

From relatives it was learned that Miss Hall had lived in Italy practically all the latter part of her life.

She was 39 years old, and began training for an artist's life before leaving Boston. This training was continued when she went to Italy, where she lived with her mother, who was also a painter. They went to live in Milan 13 years ago, and became well known in art circles there.

Nine years ago they came over here to visit Miss Hall's father, but Miss Hall returned to Milan within the year and her mother died soon afterward.

Miss Hall was regarded by some of her relatives as eccentric. She has always been an admirer of Rosa Bonheur, was fond of hunting and shooting, was an expert with the rifle, and after going abroad was accustomed to use men's apparel when on her hunting trips. It was this, they think, together with her artist's disregard for conventionalities, which led her easily to adopt men's clothing as a permanent dress.

This decision according to Miss Bar-iani, who says she has known Miss Hall for 10 years, was made three years ago, when clothing was quietly purchased and the change made whereby Miss Hall dropped out of the public view and "Mr." Hall appeared in her place.

It is expected that the body will be brought back to Boston by Mr. Hall.
Miss Bariani is expected here also.

Miss Hall, an aunt of the dead girl,
in an interview said:

"My niece was an artist very well known in Milan, where she had resided for some time. She had been with her mother a number of times and for several years past has been in Europe alone. Her mother died here about a year ago, but my niece did not return to the funeral because she did not know of her mother's death until it was too late to come.

"She has always been more or less eccentric, as I believe most artists are,
but I never heard of her eccentricity taking this form before.

"She was coming home to see her father. Her death is a terrible shock to all of us."

Miss Hall met a girl by chance in Milan park and called her wife for convenience. Miss Rosa Baldelli for ten years publicly acknowledged Miss Hall
as her husband.

Miss Baldelli is unable to speak English and conversed in Italian throughout an interview. She is of medium size, has dark hair and eyes and is quite of an Italian type. She has a certain air of refinement, dresses in good taste and expressed herself as disliking the notoriety which she has gained through her connection with Miss Hall.

"Ten years ago," she said, "I met Caroline Winslow Hall. I was then living in Milan. I was employed as a teacher in a government school. One autumn day I went walking outside of the city. I met Miss Hall. There was an instantaneous attraction. We were of the same temperament. We looked at each other. She said: 'I like you.
We must become better acquainted. I have no brothers or sisters. You shall be my sister.'"

"From that day we were inseparable.

What Shall We Eat

TO KEEP HEALTHY AND STRONG.

A healthy appetite and common sense are excellent guides to follow in matters of diet, and a mixed diet of grains, fruits and meats is undoubtedly the best. In spite of the claims made by vegetarians and food cranks generally.

As compared with grains and vegetables, meat furnishes the most nutriment in a highly concentrated form and is digested and assimilated more quickly than vegetables or grain.

Dr. Julius Remason on this subject says: Nervous persons people run down in health and low vitality should eat plenty of meat. If the digestion is too feeble at first it may be easily strengthened by the regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal.

Two of these excellent tablets taken after dinner will digest several thousand grains of meat, eggs or other animal food in three or four hours, while the malt diastase, also contained in Stuart's Tablets cause the perfect digestion of starchy foods, like potatoes, bread, etc., and no matter how weak the stomach may be no trouble will be experienced if a regular practice is made of using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets because so necessary to perfect digestion and stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach will be overcome by their daily use.

That large class of people who come under the head of nervous dyspepsia should eat plenty of meat and insure its complete digestion by the systematic use of a safe, harmless digestive medicine like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, composed of the natural digestive principles, pepsines and diastase which actually perform the work of digestion and give the abused stomach a chance to rest and to furnish the body and brain with the necessary nutriment. Cheap cathartic medicines misquering under the name of dyspepsia cures are useless for relief or cure of indigestion, because they have absolutely no effect upon the actual digestion of the food.

Dyspepsia in all its forms is simply a failure of the stomach to digest food and the sensible way to solve the riddle and cure the indigestion is to make daily use at meal time of a safe preparation which is endorsed by the medical profession and known to contain active digestive principles, and all this can truly be said of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

All druggists throughout the United States, Canada and Great Britain sell them at the uniform price of fifty cents for full treatment.

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

To Hold Flowers.

Great copper bowls of a shade of autumn foliage, very antique in appearance, are the very loveliest and most sought flower holders. Tropical lilies of the variety of tawny orange, spotted in scarlet, look gorgeous in one of these. Curiously shaped old jars, but still of metal, too, set off the dull orchids to the best advantage. Seemingly the dull background afforded by the old metal throws out the beautiful tints of the flowers in Rembrandt-like effect.

It is said that the coral gem lotus, a very inexpensive plant, by the way, is particularly pretty and suitable for a hanging basket. The foliage, delicate and drooping itself, has a charming tinting of faint silvery green. Indeed the whole plant is so charmingly graceful, and when in flower the brilliant crimson blossoms showing against the gray green foliage make it look like some rare orchid.

By setting about bowls of powdered eris root one's rooms may be kept fragrant with the odor of "violets dim" that are surely, as Shakespeare says, "sweeter than the lids of Juno's eyes or Cytherea's breath." But care must be taken to renew this powder once or twice a month, thoroughly washing the bowls, or the delicate fragrance will be utterly lost, and these bowls should be covered during the night to preserve the strength of the powder. Quaint Japanese bowls—those of the ware that shades from hazy green to lightest gray—make very fitting receptacles for this sweet smelling dust.—House Beautiful.

UNDER AN APPLE TREE

I was a young, unsophisticated youth of seventeen. On the first week of the eighteenth summer my troubles began. I was boarding at my Aunt Jerusha Ann's farmhouse. How shall I describe Jerusha Ann? It is a useless task. The first time I saw her I fell violently in love with her. The second time I declared myself.

"Rascal damed," I began, "allow me to introduce myself as David Shorter, at your service."

"I'm very happy to have the honor; but, young man, don't you think your paternal ancestors made a slight mistake in your surname? They ought to have called you David Longor. I should think," she said. I stood four feet in my boots, which had been made with double heels to make me appear of a respectable size.

"I beg your pardon, fair damed," said I, dropping this time very artistically on one knee. "I assure you I have no wish but to serve you."

She smiled on me most bewitchingly. "Are you really in earnest?" she asked. "Would you do anything for me?"

"Most assuredly, my enchantress!" exclaimed delighted I.

"Well, my kitten has just run up that tree yonder," said she, pointing to an apple tree at a little distance. "I want her very much. If you will get her for me, I shall then believe that you care for me."

The trunk of the tree was rough and full of knots, so I had no difficulty thus far, but just as I had raised myself carefully up and was about to lay my hand on the cat the provoking

IS THE WISE CASE UNTIL 7 THIS EVENING.

Defendant Was Released on $500 Bail This Morning—Crowd at Police Station—The Case.

The case of Engineer Chas. Wise, was called before Mayor Atherton this morning in Police Court, before a big crowd, railroad men, friends of the accused predominating.

Mrs. Wise was in court, arriving about 8:20, accompanied by her little son and daughter, Elizabeth.

Wise was represented by his attorney, B. G. Smythe, and a long delay was experienced in locating Attorney J. R. Fitzgibbon, who was to represent the prosecution, as the prosecuting attorney is engaged with the grand jury.

After some preliminaries, the mayor continued the case until 7 o'clock this evening at the city prison. Several witnesses will in the meantime be subpoenaed.

The mayor placed the bond for his appearance this evening at $500, and several railroad men volunteered with alacrity to become sureties.

The bond was signed by Engineers Owen Stanton and Charles Southard and Conductor Frank Funk.

Mr. Wise, after complimenting the Advocate upon its just account of his trouble, paid his respects to the account prejudicing his case, which appeared in another paper.

In fact, it is generally remarked that the account in that paper was one of the most inexcusably filthy articles that has ever appeared in print.

Several persons have been heard to say that they destroyed the paper of that evening before their families could see and read the article.

The Advocate prints all the news that is fit to print and there it draws the line. The Advocate is a home paper and the people of Newark learned long ago that it may be freely taken into the family circle.

This paper has offered no defense for Wise, nor will it do so. It is a question for the court to decide.

Mr. Wise's friends are more than confident that he will be completely vindicated of the charge against him.

He said this morning to the reporter that it was a plot on the part of his wife to revenge herself from imaginary wrongs.

Thomas Donovan, arrested by Officers Horton and Hupp for drunkenness, was given 10 days.

Ed. Lagan was arrested by Officers Callan and Kennedy for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. He was fined $1 and costs.

Lord Derby and Boralma.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 2.—Secretary Horace Wilson, of the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' Association, has been authorized by Thomas W. Lawson to issue a challenge to Harry Hamlin for a match race at Lexington between Lord Derby and Boralma for $5,000 a side, winner to take all. The race between Crepuscul and Chumley Horr has been declared off.

Was a Famous Inventor. Elmira, N. Y., Oct. 2.—John Nevills of New York, a prominent newspaper writer and inventor, was killed by an Erie freight train six miles south of here. Nevills was the inventor of the international cable and telegraphic code in use in all parts of the world.

Seth Low Indorsed. New York, Oct. 2.—The Greater New York Democracy, of which John C. Sheehan is the leader, held its city convention and nominated the fusion ticket, headed by Seth Low for mayor.

New Jersey Democrats. Trenton, N. J., Oct. 2.—Mayor James M. Seymour of Newark was nominated on the second ballot as the Democratic candidate for governor of New Jersey in a convention that at times was turbulent in the extreme, but which for all that was free from displays of ill-temper. State Chairman William Gourley was permanent chairman of the convention.

The first voting showed that the Seymour and anti-Seymour forces were almost evenly divided, and had the anti-Seymour leaders been able to concentrate their vote on a single candidate they might have won. However, there was a strong undercurrent among the delegates for Seymour, and it was only through the generalship of the leaders of the anti-Seymour forces that the latter were kept on the line.

The nomination of Mayor Seymour was a defeat for former United States Senator Smith and his forces.

As She Saw It. Mrs. Kleener—What is the matter with you this evening, John, that you ain't smoking?

Mr. Kleener—The doctor says I mustn't. He says I must stop smoking or die.

Mrs. Kleener—Oh, I'm so glad! You won't be scuffling up my curtains any more, will you?—Boston Transcript.

SYSTEMIC CATARRH.

Peruna Cures Catarrh Wherever Located.

Miss Mattie L. Guild, of Chicago, Ill.
Miss Mattie L. Guild, President Illinois Young People's Christian Temperance Union, in a recent letter from Chicago, Ill., says:

"I doubt if Peruna has a rival in all the remedies recommended to-day for catarrh of the system. A remedy that will cure catarrh of the stomach will cure the same condition of the mucous membrane anywhere. I have found it the best remedy I have ever tried for catarrh, and believing it worthy my endorsement I gladly accord it."

Catarrh of the abdominal organs is very much more common in summer than in winter time. This form of catarrh might be appropriately classed as summer catarrh.

Peruna will cure catarrh wherever located. In pelvic catarrh it has won well deserved renown. Peruna will cure any case of diarrhoea, acute or chronic. Peruna is an absolute specific for dysentery. Peruna cures catarrh of the liver. Peruna cures catarrh of the stomach.

NEW CHURCH

OF WHICH REV. JOHN MONTGOMERY IS PASTOR

Dedicated at Findlay, Ohio—Cost of the Building Over $60,000—Description of Structure.

The new First Presbyterian church at Findlay, Ohio, of which the Rev. John Montgomery, who for several years was one of Newark's most prominent ministers, is pastor, was dedicated last Sunday.

The magnificent structure built at a cost of over $60,000 stands today completed and out of debt. It is an enduring monument to all connected with the First Presbyterian church and is the largest and most beautiful church in Findlay. One citizen of Findlay, Mr. Henry Byal, contributed $20,000 or one-third the entire cost of the building.

The Findlay Republican says in a six column report of the dedication: "For several years the congregation felt the need of a new and larger church building. The old one had become too small—the congregation had outgrown it."

Several attempts were made to erect a new church but for various reasons not necessary to recall each one failed of its purpose. The coming of Rev. John Montgomery to the pastorate of the church gave the matter a new impetus. He saw at once that a new building was needed and bent his energies to the work of securing one. He instilled his own enthusiasm into the members of the congregation and the project of building a new church was again taken up.

At this time Henry Byal, Esq., came forward with an offer of a contribution of twenty thousand dollars toward a new building on certain conditions which he named. This generous offer made the construction of a new place of worship possible and it was accepted by the congregation. Soon after Mr. Byal's subscription was made active work was begun to secure additional subscriptions. There was great interest taken in the work and earnest efforts made to secure an amount sufficient to erect a new and modern edifice with all necessary conveniences for carrying on the church work. The interest taken in the plan of erecting a new house of worship showed itself in the liberal subscriptions that were made. The success of securing funds was so complete that a site for the new church was purchased.

In August 1900, ground was broken and the work of building commenced. On the 25th day of September of the same year the corner stone was laid with appropriate ceremonies.

In a few days over a year from the laying of the corner stone the beautiful church was completed and occupied.

The entire cost of the building and ground was, in round numbers, $61,000. But this sum does not include the cost of the six memorial windows which were purchased and paid for by individuals and presented to the church. While there has been no extravagance of expenditure in the erection of the building a wise and prudent economy having been exercised, the congregation and the building committee have not spared expense whenever such a course would be for the best interests of the church. The result of their labors have been the building of a church edifice that is almost perfect in its design and beautiful in finish and so arranged as to meet all of the requirements of a large and growing congregation.

The architectural design of the church is what is known as late English Gothic. The style takes its name from the attempt made in England about 1840 to return to the use of the true principles of building and decoration. The old Gothic style had been developed out of the Romanesque in the 12th century. In the sixteenth century the classical style of architecture took the place of the Gothic and which has since been called the Renaissance. It was to restore the Gothic style that the movement was begun in 1840. The result has been very satisfactory as late English Gothic has become an accepted style of pure architecture in public and semi-public buildings. It was a happy thought to apply this style to the new Presbyterian church for it presents a building perfect in outline and pleasing and inspiring in detail. While the building is massive in its construction, it is not heavy and inartistic. The lines are graceful and the proportions perfectly moulded. While it is ornate it is not gaudy. The gray tone of the walls is well blended with the red tiles of the roof, making an effect that is delightfully rich and strong. There is perfect harmony in the architectural design. The interior is in the same style as the exterior. No departure from the true principles of the late English Gothic have been made. The details have been worked out in such a way as to preserve and maintain a harmonious whole. There is nothing lacking. The most minute requirement of the style has been provided for. There is nothing composite in the architecture. The style throughout is pure. Even the construction of the great organ is in perfect harmony with the scheme of the building. The decorations of the church are chaste and beautiful. They are simple in design but chaste and tasteful. They are very pleasing and make a scene that is truly elevating.

WHICH?

Annee sent for me, and I responded at once.

"What's the matter?"

"Well," she said, with a rush, "I have had four proposals this week."

"That seems a good record. I don't see anything to complain of. I suppose you want my advice as to which to accept?"

"First, there's Jack Forde. We were brought up together, you know." A telltale flush spread over her face. "She cares for him really," I decided.

"Well, when one's with Jack one does like him dreadfully. He is so young and high spirited and devoted, I think."

"Next, please."

"Then there's Walter Fielding."

"Don't know him."

"No!" She gave a little sigh. My surmise about Jack must have been wrong. "Well, he paints the most lovely pictures in the world, and I am so happy when I am in his studio. I think I should love to marry a painter. Painters are not conventional, you know, and he thinks I have got pretty feet. It's only the shoe, really. But I do care for him. He's—"

"Proceed, Miss Annee," I urged. "I, too, have remarked the feet."

"Ah, that's nice of you! Well, Julian Clifford!"

"He's fifty?"

"I know, but he loves me so! He loves me more than all the others put together. And he seems to consider it such an honor that I should care for him, and I can't tell you how wonderful that is to a woman. He has such beautiful gray eyes, too, and he never takes one for granted. I think I love him rather desperately."

"Go on."

A dreamy look crept into her eyes. She hesitated, then gave a little, short, quick laugh.

"This is the one, after all," thought I. "It's Reginald Mason."

"That's right!"

"Oh, how you're down upon him because he's much cleverer than most of you! There's something in him that fascinates me oddly. He's different from any one else in the world and so witty. Then at the most unexpected moments one catches a note of pathos in his tone, something of a latent sadness which makes one feel one would do anything in the world just to make him happier."

"I congratulate you, Miss Annee," I said, rising. "Only, which is it to be, because I haven't in the least guessed, as you say they are all so charming?"

"That's the difficulty. I like them all in so totally different a way. You see, there are three kinds of men with regard to matrimony—the man one knows at once one would marry and love forever, the man one thinks one might love and the man one simply couldn't anyhow. Now, unfortunately, my four fiancés all come under the second heading."

"Has no one ever come under the first?"

She looked at me for several moments, considering. Then she laughed. "Why, yes, only they never liked me."

"That's a great difficulty, of course, though I should have thought—Here some afternoon callers sailed into the room, and for some moments we were separated. She came back to me, however, on the appearance of her sister and murmured:

"Do, do suggest something?"

"Give me a week," I said.

"So long?"

"A week!" I repeated, and we said goodby. I met Julian Clifford on the stairs. He was certainly very good looking.

The week duly elapsed, and I heard again from Annee. "Things much worse," she wrote, "four letters every morning of entreaties for a definite answer; four bouquets every evening. I can't bear it any longer. Tell me, for pity's sake, what to do. They are all awfully kind."

"Dear Miss Annee," I answered, "I am extremely busy, but meet me tomorrow at the corner of M—street at 12 o'clock. I have thought of a good plan, only you must have courage; otherwise I cannot help you."

She was there ten minutes late. "How absurd of you to make me come here!" she said. "And how pale you look, and so smart!"

"Miss Annee," said I—my voice was slightly trembling—"you see that house?"

"Yes," said she, "but what?"

"That's a justice of the peace's office."

"Oh, dear! Is any of them about?" "Cause I really can't. It's awfully good of you but I really can't—not even Walter Fielding. And I do care!"

"None of them is about," I said.

"Well?"

I paused a moment. She looked up, a little frightened. "Will you marry me?"

"Dison?"

"Will you marry me now?"

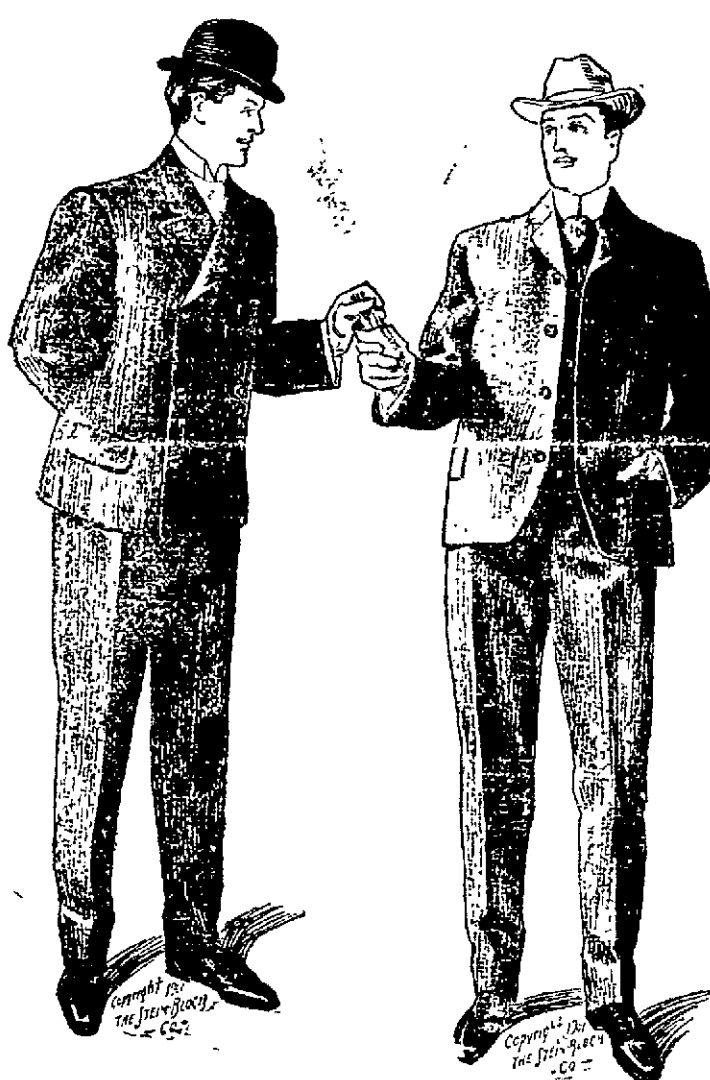

"But, Dison?"

We crossed the road.

"Now?"

"I think you are very unkind. I like a proper wedding with bridesmaids. You shall have that after." We were at the door. She turned suddenly white and walked in, with her little head very erect. When we came out— "Dison so lovely as she looked—she said, "Quite, you came under the first heading." I put her in a cab, and she drove home alone. Three weeks later we were married at St. George's. They were all there.

GRAND JURY.

The grand jurors made their report today, having begun their session Monday, Sept. 23. One hundred and ninety-two witnesses were examined, and twenty-seven cases considered. A number of indictments were returned. The exact number cannot now be stated, owing to some of the defendants not yet having been arrested. The jurors remained each day in session until near 6 o'clock, departing from the rule and holding a session last Saturday. There was no case of tardiness during the session.

At the close of their deliberations, the jurors passed the following resolution as to prosecuting Attorney Thomas W. Phillips: That the grand jury commends the prosecuting attorney for his efficiency and faithfulness as shown in expediting the work of our session, and we extend to him our heartfelt thanks for the courtesy he has shown us individually during our mutual labors.

This resolution was presented by Henry Woodbridge, and was passed unanimously.

The court, after thanking the jurors for their assiduity and the dispatch with which the business coming before them was disposed of, discharged them for the term.

JAIL REPORT.

We, the grand jurors of the grand jury, for the term of September, 1901, make the following report as to our county jail:

We visited the jail in a body, and made a very careful examination as to its condition and the treatment of the prisoners, as required by law.

The laws of the state and the rules of the judge pertaining to the management of the jail have been faithfully kept and observed.

We found a splendid jail, in splendid condition, both within and without.

The prisoners are safe, and their health and comfort well looked after and provided for.

Great credit, undoubtedly, is due to Sheriff William H. Anderson for the faithful and highly efficient manner in which he has performed his duties as keeper of the county jail.

Respectfully submitted,
HARRY BURKHAM,
Foreman.

NATURAL GAS.

Injunction on a Supplemental Petition. Application After the Company's Card Was Published.

City Solicitor Smythe and Kibler & Kibler today made application to Judge Jones for an injunction on a supplemental petition in the case commenced Tuesday against the Natural Gas Company. The company published a card last night stating that all consumers who wished to take gas at the flat rate mentioned would have to make yearly contracts. The city contended that this was in contempt of the injunction allowed yesterday.

Judge Jones allowed the supplemental injunction which prevents the gas company from carrying out the threat contained in its published card. They are enjoined from requiring consumers to make contracts either for meter or by the flat rate, and from turning the gas off from the premises of those who refuse to do so.

NATURAL GAS CASE.

The Supreme Court has sustained a motion which was argued in Columbus last week by Attorneys Phil B. Smythe and Edward Kibler, to advance the case against the Natural Gas Company in which the city is plaintiff.

SECOND DAY

CLOUDY SKY KEPT MANY AT HOME THIS MORNING.

Crowds Expected at County Fair on Thursday and Friday--Col. Kilbourne Coming Tomorrow.

The second day of the Licking county fair seemed to start with rather unfavorable auspices this morning, so far as the weather was concerned. The clouds were heavy and lowering and early in the morning it looked as though it was settling in for a steady rain. About 10 o'clock, however, the clouds broke away and the sun appeared, and the day turned out to be a delightful one. The crowd in attendance was not large. All the various departments of exhibits are unusually full and unusually fine. Some splendid racing is being enjoyed this afternoon by a large crowd of spectators. It is expected that tomorrow--Newark day--at which Col. Kilbourne, the standard bearer of the Democracy for Governor, will be present and address the people on an appropriate and non-partisan topic, will be a red letter day, and Friday, the last day, is always a big day in point of attendance.

This afternoon the following races are scheduled:

2:35 class trotting, purse $250.

2:29 class pacing, purse $250.

The entries in these two races include some very fast horses.

On Thursday afternoon the races are 2:24 class trotting, purse $300; 2:17 class pacing, purse $300; running, half mile heats, 2 in 3, purse $100.

HINTS FOR FARMERS

Preparing For Early Frosts.
"About this time expect a frost," says the almanac, during the month of September, the probability covering something like one-third of the month and expected to continue good a much longer as the frost should be delayed. It is seldom that we do not hear of frosts in September in New England, and something like a dozen years ago we had one on Sept. 17 that destroyed nearly all green plants out of doors and in some places was reported as freezing apples in the trees, says American Cultivator. This was followed by warm and pleasant weather until nearly November, if we remember correctly. To have passed that one frost safely would have saved many dollars to gardeners, fruit growers and florists. Why not prepare for such an early frost by making ready for emergency those around fields and orchards? A few heaps of brush, chips, weeds and green stuff ready to throw on them after they are burning will create a smoke that will lie thickly over a field for hours in one of those nights when there is no wind. If there is wind enough to blow the smoke away, it will also blow frost away unless the temperature drops to the freezing point.

Selecting Seed Potatoes.
We never tried the plan of selecting seed potatoes when we were digging by taking only those from the most prolific hills, yet it might be a profitable method, says American Cultivator. If like produces like, it should result in a better yield. When we were farming, we had not thought as much about such things as we have since, and we were selected our ears of corn for seed from those that matured the earliest, allowed a strip of the best ears to go to seed instead of picking them for market and allowed the earliest beans on the hill to ripen. We thought it paid us well to do so, and those who laughed at us for bothering so were not unwilling to come to us for seed. If it was profitable to select other seed from the most prolific plants, why not try it with the potato tubers?

Cure For Pear Blight.
The orchardists in southern Missouri are said by Goodall's Farmer to secure good results in cases of pear blight by the use of a mixture made by slaking eight pounds of fresh or caustic lime in hot water, then when slaked reducing it with cold water to about the consistency of syrup. After this add two pounds of sulphuric acid and dilute again until it can be applied to the trees as a wash. Put a thick coat of this on trunk and larger limbs, and it will prevent the disease or, if it has begun, check its spread. We confess that we should have more faith if it were used as a spray to reach the twigs where the disease starts, but we give the formula as we find it.

How to Keep Honey.
Very few people know how to keep honey, says a correspondent of New England Homestead. The average housewife will generally put it in the cellar or into the refrigerator for safe keeping, about the two worst places possible. Honey is kept very different from fruit. It is thoroughly ripe when taken from the hive and will therefore not ferment unless placed in a cool, moist place. We learn from the bees that it should be kept dry and warm, as they keep it. In the kitchen cupboard is a good place for it or any room where salt will keep perfectly dry. Even a temperature of 100 degrees is not too hot for honey.

Weaning the Pigs.
Before beginning to wean a foal the young thing should be thoroughly halter broken, and the sooner this is done after the foal is dropped the better. The colt or filly should also become accustomed to eating oats, both whole and ground, wet and dry. This can be easily accomplished by feeding grain to the dam regularly night and morning in a box or trough set upon the ground or floor or so near it that the colt can reach the grain easily.

When to Water Horses.
Where it can be done a good practice is to water a horse about thirty minutes before he is fed his grain, says Iowa Homestead. If it cannot be done then, a very good time is to water immediately before the grain is fed. If water must be given after eating, it should not be furnished for two hours. This is a simple rule that any horse owner can understand, and if it is practiced much trouble will be avoided.

Value of Trees and Shrubs.
Cut away the trees, shrubs and vines from around the well arranged country home, and you will cut a big slice from the selling price, says Rural New Yorker. Add such things to the treeless home, and you make it worth more and also easier of sale. Why should the farmer scorn such things when they have a direct bearing on the selling value of his property?

Farm Notes.

Teach the colts to eat while suckling the dam.

Good growth is profit in anything, on any kind of business.

Careful feeding produces good growth and healthy condition.

No bad tempered sire should be used to perpetuate his kind.

The man who never makes mistakes seldom makes anything.

The value of milk is determined by what it will make in butter and cheese.

Farmers should study to increase the value of the manure made on the farm.

The surest way to make the farm profitable is to keep the land and animals in a vigorous condition.--Kansas Farmer.

Rear End Collision.

John Harrigan, a brakeman employed by the B. & O. railroad was caught in a rear end collision at Black Lick on Monday evening, sustaining a badly sprained back, a broken nose and numerous other injuries. As near as could be learned Tuesday a freight train of 39 cars was divided in two sections, one closely following the other. At Black Lick the air refused to work in the second section and consequently it crashed into the rear end of the first section which came to a stop at Black Lick. The engine of the second section telescoped the caboose of the first train and derailed a number of box cars, throwing them over the embankment. A wrecking crew was hurriedly sent from Columbus, but it was some hours before they had the road cleared for traffic. Harrigan was brought to Columbus and taken to his home on North Twenty-ninth street, where he was later attended by Dr. Hoover, who said Tuesday that Harrigan's injuries were not dangerous.--Columbus Dispatch.

CHANCE

"About six years ago Miss Hall assumed masculine attire. At the art school most of the students were men. The few women students wore at work trousers and a painter's coat. In this way she first began to wear men's clothes. She claimed it gave her more freedom. We used to take trips about Italy, seeking the beautiful places. Always she dressed like a man.

"This caused annoyance and suspicion. Finally four years ago she said: 'I have solved it. You shall travel as my wife. In the future I am to be Charles Winslow Hall and you shall be Guiseppina, my wife.'

"We traveled so for three years or more. There was no suspicion and no kind of notoriety. On the way over she did not associate much with men. She was too ill. She drank much absinthe in the endeavor to live until we got here. I knew she was going to die I prayed for her.

"What is to become of me? She told me she was wealthy and that I was to have her money."

On shipboard the wife seemed devoted to the husband, who seemed devoted to cigars and strong drink. The truth was not learned until the supposed Mr. Hall became sick and the ship's surgeons were called in attendance. They discovered the deception regarding the sex of their patient.

Ten years ago Miss Hall, then 20 years old, who always was self-willed and eccentric, went abroad and made her home in Milan.

ALL NOT LOVELY

In the Republican Camp--Appointments to be Placed to do the Most Good.

From a conversation between E. L. Randolph, chairman of the Republican executive committee, and a member of the central committee it is evident everything is not serene in the Republican camp in this county.

It appears that Chairman Randolph sent out letters to the central committee members throughout the city and county asking them to send in the names of persons for judges and clerks.

The committeeman, whose name is withheld for obvious reasons, met him on the street and told him that any names he might have to suggest he would send them to the City Board of Elections, as he did not think the executive committee had anything to do with this part of the party's machine.

Randolph then said it was only intended to send the letters to committeemen in the county.

"That," said the man's committeeman, "is just as bad. They should have gone to the County Board of Deputy Supervisors, and I'll tell you another thing, you and your committee are controlled by one man, and you are losing votes for the party every day."

FOR THE CHILDREN

A Gander and a Dog.

We had a large flock of geese, and among them, but not of them, was a solemn looking gander that, as Lord Dunsinore says, "looked all by himself."

He had evidently been outlived by his companions, for none of them ever noticed him, and when they were out grazing he stayed away behind the flock or wandered off somewhere alone.

Being thus cut off from his kind and feeling, no doubt, the need of companionship of some kind, he "made up" to Caesar, our big watchdog, a fierce half bloodhound. We kept Caesar chained in his kennel during the day and turned him loose at night, for we lived in an out of the way place and had him to protect us from thieves.

One day we were much astonished to see the gander standing by Caesar's kennel like a sentinel. What he was doing there we did not know, but we watched him, and when Caesar began barking at something the gander began squawking at the top of his lungs. Now, Caesar did not like this at all, and he rushed out of his kennel as far as his chain would let him and pounced on the gander as if he would tear the poor fellow to pieces.

The gander escaped with the loss of a few feathers, and as soon as Caesar became quiet he again took his stand near the kennel. After several unsuccessful attempts to drive him away Caesar seemed to understand the situation, and from that time on accepted the friendship that had thus been offered to him.

The gander's devotion to the dog was really remarkable. He would stand guard for an hour at a time while Caesar slept, now and then with his bill scratching Caesar's head or his back as if caressing him. And Caesar seemed delighted to have him do it. If he wandered off occasionally after grass, Caesar would begin barking, when back would rush the gander, with outspread wings, cackling and squawking as he came.

When Caesar was turned loose at night, the gander would follow him everywhere. How late he kept this up we never knew, but we have often heard cackling and barking intermingled long after we had gone to bed.

This strange friendship lasted without an interruption for three months, when Caesar was accidentally killed. The gander then became so grief stricken and forlorn that we gave him to a friend who lived at a distance in the hope that a change of scene might make him forget his sorrow.

A Big Cat Story.

The following story is told about a cat, though it is somewhat hard to believe it.

A lady owned a favorite cat and an equally favorite canary. The bird lived in his mistress' bedroom and was allowed to fly about at will. One morning the owner of the two pets was surprised to see the bird perched fearlessly on a puss, who seemed both pleased and proud. The lady, seeing that the cat was as fond of the bird as she was herself, let both roam about in the room. On one occasion, however, the lady had a bad fright, as she saw puss, after giving a slight spring, seize the bird in her mouth and spring on to the bed, her tail swelled out, her hair erect and her eyes as big as four. The owner of the canary gave him up at that moment for lost, but all was made clear in a moment, when it was seen that there was a strange cat in the room. It was to preserve the bird that his wise friend had seized him. Directly the strange cat was driven away puss set the bird at liberty.

Too Much.

"You say you think your boy has too great an appetite?" said the physician to an anxious mother. "Do you realize how much a growing boy can eat?"

"I should think I ought to if anybody does," returned the boy's parent. "I'll just put the case to you, doctor. Where were you in the mountains the waitress would come in and say to my boy, 'We have fried fish, steak, liver and bacon, baked and fried potatoes, rye biscuits, muffins and dry toast.' And that boy Ned would say, 'I'll take it all, please, and some eggs.'"

To Make a Good Balloon.

A good balloon can be made by securing a thin rubber bag, which you would have to have specially made with a light metal stop. Take this to a soda water manufacturer and have it charged with gas. Then rig a net of thin fishing line around it, tying all the ends to a light hoop, which should fit around the lower part of the rubber bag. From this suspend a very light basket with cord, and you have your balloon finished. Be sure and have a string to it. The more string, the higher you can send it.

A Wonderful Feat.

A mouse of merit watched a boy who stood upon his head.

"Now, that's a clever thing to do," the mouse of merit said.

"But if I train my muscles well and stick to what I'm at, I think in time I may perform a trick worth two of that."

So he began to practice hard—It's his mice who will—And he was able, in the end, To stand upon his tail!

MANILLA HEMP CASE

Prominent Officials Mentioned In the Investigation.

HOW THE STOCK WAS APPORTIONED

According to the Story Told by Major Hawkes Before the Senate Committee on Military Affairs—Columbian Minister Receives a Reassuring Dispatch—News of Washington.

Washington, Oct. 2.—The senate committee on military affairs resumed its hearing of the charges against Lieutenant Colonel H. O. S. Heistand, Major Hawkes, continuing his testimony, asked that Colonel Heistand produce a memorandum made in May, 1899, by the colonel and himself, in which $159,471 of the promoters' stock of the Manila Rope company was apportioned. Hawkes said his recollection was that he and Heistand, by the terms of the memorandum, were to have $40,000 of the stock and that General Corbin, George D. Meiklejohn, Charles H. Allen, James E. Boyd, W. W. Dudley and L. T. Michener were to receive the remainder in portions.

Counsel for Heistand said his client had no knowledge of such a document.

Only Heistand and Hawkes were present when the apportionment was made. Hawkes added that no testimony he should give would connect Corbin, Meiklejohn, Allen or Boyd personally with the transaction.

Hawkes detailed a conversation with Heistand in October, 1899, in which Heistand told him that Corbin and Allen were out of the combination, and that Meiklejohn had asked for the return of Hawkes' letter of introduction. This was given to Heistand.

Hawkes said Heistand suggested he did not accede to that proposition.

Major Hawkes gave the details of his trip to the Philippines and his return after his appointment was revoked. He saw Secretary Root, but the committee would not permit him to tell anything of what passed between them, holding that Secretary Root was not involved in the case.

Invaders Repulsed.

Washington, Oct. 2.—The following cablegram was received at the Colombian legation in this city, from the minister of foreign affairs at Bogota:

"We have obtained a signal victory over Venezuelan troops that invaded Goajira, under Venezuelan officers and under the Venezuelan flag, without a previous declaration of war." Some uncertainty exists in the minds of the officials of the legation as to whether the victory over the Venezuelans is identical with that heretofore reported by way of Caracas in the press dispatches, or is another fight. Dr. Silva, the minister, is inclined to the former opinion. The officials feel very much gratified over the advices. Some stress is laid on the statement that this invasion was without a previous declaration of war on Venezuela's part. This, Dr. Silva says, shows the irregularity of the course the latter country has taken.

Jordan Almond Secured.

Washington, Oct. 2.—The department of agriculture finally has succeeded in securing the Jordan almond, exportation of which has been rigorously prohibited by Spain for some years, and this government will now experiment with it to determine the best localities for growing it. This species of almond is regarded by the agricultural authorities as the finest in the world.

Public Debt.

Washington, Oct. 2.—The monthly statement of the public debt shows that at the close of business Sept. 30, 1901, the debt, less cash in the treasury, amounted to $1,031,524,565, a decrease for the month of $4,825,401.

Agrarians Incensed.

Berlin, Oct. 2.—The agrarians are much incensed at the following remarks, which, according to the Berliner Tageblatt, were made by one of the speakers at the banquet of the Handelstag or commercial congress:

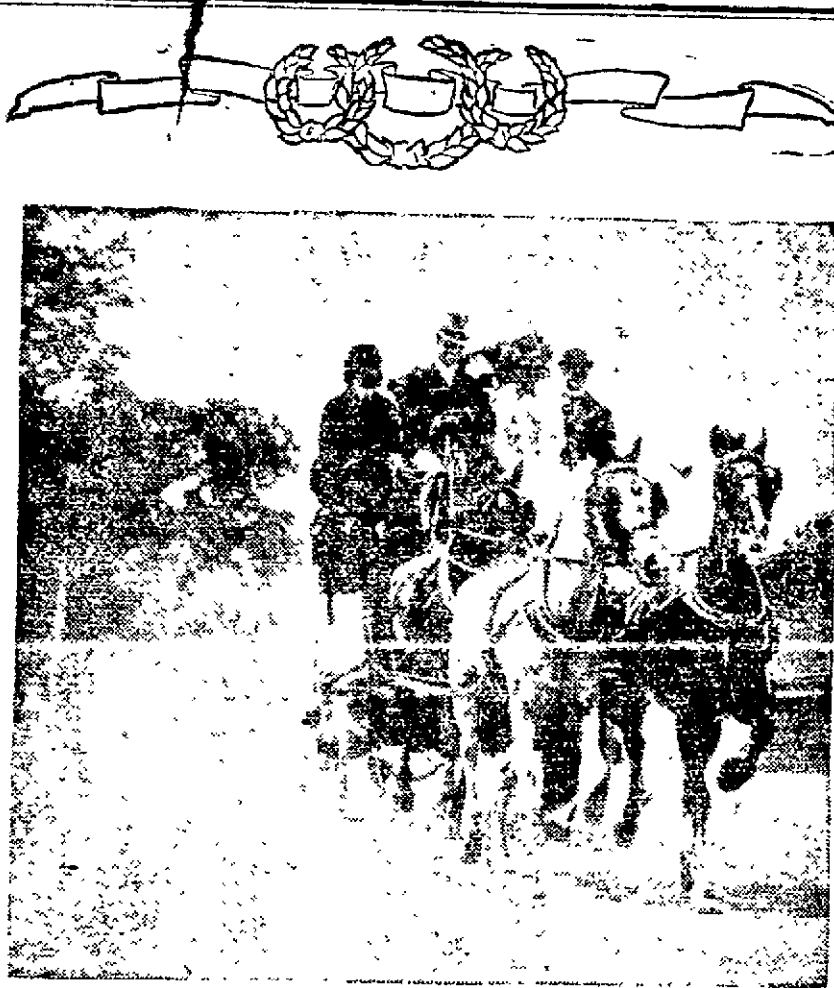

"It is well that we have, over against the conflicting views regarding the tariff bill, a strong monarchical power which knows no special interest, but only the interests of one fatherland. The existing commercial treaties show the strong initiative of the kaiser, and it is hoped that his majesty will now understand how to provide for the country's interest." The Kreuz Zeitung, which says it considers this "tugging of the kaiser into party conflicts" a serious abuse, warns partisans against carrying the practice to a dangerous point.

Ireland's Welcome to the King.

Dublin, Oct. 2.—At the meeting of the United Irish League in Dublin, the lord mayor of Dublin presiding, a letter of apology for absence was read from William O'Brien, M. P., who expressed a hope that "if the king visits Ireland next year the league will arouse a spirit which will convince his majesty that he has come among a people discontented and disaffected to the core, only needing arms and training of the Boers to testify to their hatred of England's rule, with an eloquence equal to that of the unconquered South African republicans."

Strike Settled.

Boston, Oct. 2.—The expressmen's strike has been settled, the 200 drivers, helpers and lumpers will return to work and the sympathetic strike of 2,000 men comprising the Allied Trades Unions, which was threatened, goes into effect is thereby averted. Under the terms of the agreement between the men and the executive committee of the Allied Council the cases of the three men discharged by the Boston Dispatch-Express company are to be heard by the state board of arbitration within three weeks.

COACHING IN THE BERKSHIRES.

No Strife Between the Sexes

By MARIE CORELLI

We hear a great deal now—days of strife and competition between the sexes, but surely there should be no strife between two halves of a perfect whole.

MAN IS KING, AS WOMAN IS QUEEN, and to do good work in the world the two must rule harmoniously together.

One is not greater or less than the other. Each has the qualities necessary to make both happy. And men and women are never seen at better advantage than when their total unlikeness to each other is most apparent.

AN EFFEMINATE MAN IS CONTEMPTIBLE; A MASCULINE WOMAN IS RIDICULOUS.

It is not by asserting herself as the equal of man that "sovereign woman" will best keep her sovereignty; it is rather by emphasizing and insisting on the great difference there is between herself and him.

We women can be useful workers in the world without sacrificing our chief birthright—womanliness.

No woman ever gains anything by asserting that she is as good as a man. She ought to be so much better that any assertion of the kind is totally unnecessary.

It is generally understood and considered that man objects to that particular movement which is called the "advancement of woman."

If he does so object, the objection is perfectly reasonable and natural. For long centuries of tradition and history in all countries he has been accustomed to make his own laws for his own convenience, and those laws have kept woman in a subordinate position as more or less of a DRUDGE or a TOY.

It is rather difficult for him now to understand that with better education woman has higher aims and that instead of crouching at his feet she wishes to walk by his side, the free companion of his thoughts, the inspirer of all good things to him, the defender of his honor and his most faithful friend on this side of heaven.

Surely this is what woman, in the true sense of womanhood, means when she clamors for her "rights." She wants the right to help in the work of the world, the right to have a voice in the affairs of life and that society in which she is compelled to take so great a part, the right to suggest ways out of difficulty, to bring light out of darkness AND, ABOVE ALL THE RIGHT TO INSPIRE AND ENCOURAGE MAN TO NOBLE EFFORTS BY HER OWN STEADFAST AND BRIGHT EXAMPLE.

A Little Corner of Heaven on Earth

By the QUEEN OF ROUMANIA (Carmen Sylva)

WHEREVER a mother's influence prevails, there straightway is a little corner of heaven on earth. And her watchful love, sanctifying everything it touches, so embodies the meaneast service that the very stove whereon she warms a cup of milk for her sick child becomes AN ALTAR FIRE OF PRECIOUS SACRIFICE, upon whose flame the tears and sighs she pours out for that child's recovery are wafted on high to the throne of grace.

AND IS THERE ANY EARTHLY VISION HALF SO SWEET AND FAIR AS THAT OF THE BABE ROCKED TO REST IN ITS MOTHER'S ARMS ON ITS MOTHER'S HEART? HER LAP, ITS EARLIEST CRADLE, IS A VERY HOLY OF HOLIES—A SHRINE REMOVED FROM DANGER AND TEMPTATION, A HAVEN SHELTERING FROM THE STORMS OF LIFE.

Yon woman, standing there with her baby clapped to her breast and another child clinging to her hand, while her wistful, longing eyes are fixed on the distant horizon, on the cruel, hungry waves that perchance have swallowed up her husband's bark—might she not represent a priestess of the sea and of the storm? The wind howls and the sky darkens and still she waits and watches, and her face grows pale as the hours go by and yet no sail appears in sight. What will become of her little ones if the breadwinner returns not? 'Tis she who then must be both FATHER AND MOTHER TO THE HELPLESS BABES, and, though her heart aches, she does not lose courage, but nerves herself to the desperate struggle.

NEED MORE TROOPS.

South African Situation Disturbing the British Mind.

HAZE SURROUNDS WAR OPERATIONS.

Contest Enters Upon Its Third Year and the Government is Now Being Pounded on All Sides—Pro-Boer Sentiment in Bermuda—Mystery Envelops Conditions in Natal.

London, Oct. 2.—Within two weeks the war in South Africa will have entered upon its third year and in the face of a recurrence of organized operations by the Boers and of the impossibility of carrying out Mr. Brodrick's promise to reduce the war expenses by sending home some troops, the government organs are again becoming restless. There is a mystery surrounding the operations and the whole situation in Natal, and the denials and evasions of the war office concerning the alleged friction between Mr. Brodrick and Lord Kitchener, form the subject of editorial protests on all sides. "We have a right to expect," says the Standard, "that the government will lose no time in sending out such ample reinforcements as the military chiefs on the spot deem necessary."

The Daily Mail, which finds evidence that Lord Kitchener is in a difficult predicament and fears that the government is delaying reinforcement out of a desire to avoid summoning parliament to vote the necessary supplies, warns the government that if this be the case a grave risk is being run. Similar protests are made on all sides.

The Times, after reminding the government of the repeated blunders and miscalculations which cost the empire such a terrible price, says: "A third campaign has now opened in South Africa, and there is no sign that the government is doing anything to prepare for possibly the dragging out of the war for several months more. Already it is too late to provide such a mobile force as would be adequate this autumn. Is the government doing anything to provide it even three months hence, and if not, what possible excuse can the government urge for this neglect?"

Uncasiness in Bermuda.

Hamilton, Bermuda, Oct. 2.—The pro-Boers in Bermuda have been exciting themselves, the occasion being the escape of some prisoners of war, whom they made every effort to aid in their attempts to regain their freedom. Under cover of darkness and a rain storm three men, a nephew of the late Commandant Jaubert, Alfred Marquis Jaubert, and two brothers, George and Hendrick Indemur, made their escape from Darrels Island, and wended their way to the residence of Dr. Outerbridge at Bailey's bay and then repaired to a place of concealment in the neighborhood. All three were recaptured and lodged in the military prison at St. George's. The affair has created great excitement here, not merely because of the attempted escape, which is something to be anticipated at any time, but because of the apparent exhibition of pro-Boer spirit here.

Horses For the Boers?

New Orleans, Oct. 2.—The steamship European cleared for Cape Town with 1,100 horses.

Mrs. McKinley Better.

Canton, O., Oct. 2.—Dr. Rixey, Mrs. McKinley's physician, left Canton for Washington. In his absence she will be under the care of Doctors Phillips and Portman. Dr. Phillips has been for many years one of the family physicians of the late president and wife, and Dr. Portman has frequently been consulted by them. Dr. Rixey will be available at any time and will come to Canton, whenever his services are needed. The affairs of the late president have been found to be in excellent condition and considerable progress has already been made in the administration of his estate. Dr. Rixey said that Mrs. McKinley's condition is such that all her friends are very hopeful that no change for the worse will occur.

Rebels Active in China.

Kong Koo, Oct. 2.—Thousands of rebels, after sacking the German mission at Ping Thong, attacked Hing-Nan, a city near Canton. They were repulsed, but they attacked Shikma, where they were again repulsed. Two thousand Chinese troops have been sent to suppress them. Disorders have arisen in the Yang Tse provinces, owing to the ravages of the floods and the division of the relief funds by corrupt officials. These threaten to culminate in rebellion. The situation is very grave, and the local authorities have been ordered to raise troops and to place the districts in a state of defense.

Linemen's Strike Spreads.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—The strike of the telephone linemen has spread to the suburbs and outlying towns included in the toll service of the Chicago Telephone company. The union estimates the total number of strikers at 570. Among the towns included in the order were Elgin, Aurora, Joliet, Rockford, Evanston, LaGrange, Plainfield, Lake Forest, Highland Park and Waukegan.

Convention Dissolved.

Havana, Oct. 2.—The constitutional convention has addressed a letter to Governor General Wood informing him that the changes which he suggested should be made in the election law have been made, and that the convention, deeming its work completed, is ready to dissolve. It is probable that General Wood in his reply will suggest a dissolution.

Neuralgia.

The Prayer of a Nerve for More Blood.

Neuralgia may attack any part of the body but most frequently occurs where the nerves are most abundant.

In the head. In the face. Sometimes the heart nerves seem to twist. Twinging rheumatic pains of the extremities.

Sharp and intense at times. In the intervals dull and heavy. Neuralgia is the result of impoverished blood, caused by impairment of the nerves—a lack of nerve force.

It is a disease of the nerve centers, and the pains accompanying it are a prayer for better nourishment. They are the danger signals which warn you against a total collapse of the nervous system.

Liniments and all external applications can only give temporary relief. Permanent cure cannot possibly come until the nerve centers are thoroughly revitalized by Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills. The beneficial effects of this great nerve restorative are felt thrilling through the nerve fibres as week by week and month by month the nerve force of the body is restored.

Women afflicted with diseases peculiar to their sex are frequently great sufferers from neuralgia. Dr. Chase's Nerve Pills positively cure both these disorders by filling the nervous system with new vigor and life. So cents a box at all dealers, or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. The genuine has portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase on each package.

Mrs. J. H. Warrick, of No. 280 Philadelphia st., Indiana, Pa., says: "I can recommend Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills to anyone who suffers as I did with nervous sick headache—neuralgia of the head and a weakened stomach digestion. They stopped the headache, the neuralgia disappeared and with it the stomach trouble."

What's Better Than Home Indorsement?

Mr. E. T. Johnson, Newark, O.

Dear Sir:—My wife suffered for 10 years with Rheumatism and gradually became worse. Tried different doctors and various remedies without relief. One day some two or three years ago a friend told her of your preparation, RHEUMATOL. After using eight small bottles, (it was then put up in 10c size) all rheumatism disappeared, and has never returned. Not only did it cure Rheumatism but a very bad case of Eczema of 20 years standing. A dreadful case it was—the sores and scabs spreading up back part of neck into the hair. Several doctors treated her for this malady but no relief of any consequence until RHEUMATOL was used. This Rheumatol cured Mrs. Brandt of Eczema as well as Rheumatism and neither has returned during this entire period of nearly 3 years, for which my wife and I are sincerely grateful, and we heartily recommend RHEUMATOL to any one suffering from Rheumatism or Eczema.

Columbia and Shamrock Will Try It Again—As Published Yesterday, Tuesday's Race Failed.

New York, Oct. 2.—The attempt to sell the second of the present series of the international yacht races for the blue ribbon of the sea proved a dismal failure. Between 15,000 and 30,000 people who crowded the pleasure fleet off Sandy Hook lightship in the hope of seeing a repetition of the thrilling sport of Saturday last witnessed, instead, more of a drifting match than a race. The wind was exceedingly light and variable. At the end of four and a half hours the yachts had covered less than one-half of the prescribed course of 30 miles, and as there was no possibility of their finishing within the time limit the regatta committee declared the race off. When the gun was fired announcing this direction the challenger was about half a mile ahead of the defender, and to that extent the trial was a victory for Shamrock II. The next race will be sailed Thursday.

CROPS

LAST BULLETIN OF THE SEASON IS ISSUED.

Summaries of the Past Week and of the Last Season—Wheat Sowing Delayed.

The weekly crop bulletins will be discontinued with this week's issue. The summary for the past week and of the entire season are presented herewith.

The temperature has been higher than the normal during the week. Most crops were suffering for rain and in some parts of the southwest the ground was too dry for plowing and preparing for wheat seeding. Wells, streams and cisterns were very low.

The weather has been favorable for harvesting and corn cutting and the time has been well improved. In northern districts the late corn is just getting ripe enough for cutting, but in most parts of the state much of the corn is in shocks. Husking has begun in a few places.

A few correspondents in the northeast report late potatoes better than expected and growing well, but in most sections of the state the yield is very light. There are some complaints of decay. Tobacco is mostly housed in good condition. Turnips and other garden crops have felt the need of rain.

Only an occasional correspondent states that a fair crop of winter apples is in prospect. Pecking has begun. There is considerable complaint of decay. Grapes have done well in the northeast. Seed clover is generally better in the western counties than in the eastern. Pastures are very short in the southwest.

Much wheat has been sown, yet there is a larger number of correspondents who have delayed seeding because of danger from the fly. A recent bulletin from the agricultural experiment station at Wooster indicates that the precaution is a wise one as the fly are already working in early-seeded wheat. We hope that all correspondents will write Professor Thorpe for a copy of the bulletin, then watch their fields very carefully and forward him memoranda as to the influence of the weather upon this great insect pest, as requested.

Summary of the Season—The winter was generally favorable to fruit trees and field crops.

At the first of April farm work was backward and very little had been done. April was cool and wet, with an unusually heavy snowfall on the 19th to 22d. Damage was done to fruit trees by ice and snow in eastern counties and much injury was done to fields by the overflowing waters in the south and south-east. There was an improvement in the condition of wheat.

May was cool and slightly wetter than the normal. Warm weather and sunshine during the last of April and first week in May advanced vegetation, and considerable farm work was done. Corn planting began in the extreme south at this time. Frosts were general in the north on the 3d to 5th and in most districts on the 13th, but without serious damage. The month was too cool and wet for corn. Apples have indication of a light bloom. Wheat did well.

The first of June was unusually cool and the last part unusually warm.

Light frosts occurred in the north on the 3rd, 5th and 9th. Corn was small but was growing well at the close of the month. The weather was not favorable for curing grain or clover. Wheat improved. Potatoes, garden crops and fruit were unfavorably affected by the high temperature.

The weather during July was unusually clear with deficient precipitation. It was the warmest month on record in Ohio, and at many stations the highest temperature ever recorded was registered. The weather was favorable for haying and harvesting, but drought seriously affected pastures and practically all field crops.

Cooler weather prevailed in August, but the drought continued in most sections until the 14th, damaging corn, tobacco, potatoes, fruit and garden crops. After the 14th rains were more frequent, and late crops improved during the balance of the month over most of the state.

September has been slightly warmer and drier than the normal. Frosts occurred on the 18th to 21st, doing some damage in the northwest.

AND PROBABLY FATALY HURT AT KIRKERSVILLE.

Father of Postmaster Austin of Granville Injured Tuesday Evening—Struck by a Buggy.

Kirkersville, O., Oct. 2.—Mr. A. H. Austin, of Kirkersville, father of Mr. L. A. Austin, postmaster at Granville, O., was probably fatally hurt last evening near his home in Kirkersville.

Mr. Austin, who is a retired blacksmith and a well known Mason, aged 74 years, was walking from his home in the village of Kirkersville down town about 7:30 o'clock last night and when in the vicinity of the Pierce residence he was run against by a buggy driven by Harvey Wells. It was very dark at that hour and the driver and the pedestrian did not see each other. Mr. Austin was struck by one shaft, knocked down and run over, one rib being fractured, his head badly cut and body bruised.

Doctors Watkins and Rutledge remained with the patient nearly all night endeavoring to relieve his suffering. Today the doctors report that Mr. Austin's heart is affected and say that while he may recover, the chances seem to be against it.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin came over from Granville last night soon after the accident, but Mr. Austin was obliged to remain to Granville for a short time today.

The injured man is one of the best known men in and about Kirkersville. He is one of the oldest settlers and his friends are legion. The injured man is well known in Newark.

Gas Consumers.

To the People of Newark:

As a concession to our patrons who desire to continue the use of natural gas, we will make contracts for a year with all who desire them at a flat rate in accordance with our printed circular. To those who will not and refuse to sign a written contract, we will furnish gas only by a meter rate in accordance with our franchise.

We wish to give fair notice to all. If the citizens of Newark desire to continue the use of gas on a flat rate, they must sign a contract. If they will not do this, we will insist on our franchise meter rate.

Recent unnecessary and annoying litigation has made us decide to do this.

This offer is open until October 10. THE NEWARK NATURAL GAS & FUEL COMPANY.
